

Who needs the “Blended Course?”

1. Individuals who are getting certified for the first time
2. Individuals who have been informed by their company or licensing administration that they must have a hands-on skill evaluation

What is the “Blended Course?”

All training and written testing is completed online at www.procpr.org or www.profirstaid.com. Skills are then evaluated in person by a registered ProCPR, LLC Facilitator or certified CPR Instructor. (Please see page 2 for how the blended course works)

How do I get started with the “Blended Course?”

It's easy! Simply sign up online at www.procpr.org or www.profirstaid.com. Because you are taking the blended course, check the box that says “My certification has not lapsed more than 6 months.” When you've passed the test and paid for the certification, print out the “Blended Course” packet and card. Upon successful completion of the skill evaluation, have the skill evaluator sign the back of the card.

How can I find someone to perform my skill evaluation?

Many people work with CPR Instructors. The best way is to ask a friend or acquaintance, who is a currently certified instructor, to perform the skill evaluation for free. ProCPR, LLC allows skill evaluations to be performed for ProCPR and ProFirstAid certifications by currently certified instructors bridged from other curriculum providers. Instructors who are currently certified by the American Heart Association, American Red Cross, Medic First Aid, ASHI, or other nationally recognized programs that follow the most current ILCOR and ECC recommendations may be immediately bridged as an approved skill evaluator for ProCPR, LLC by submitting a copy of their certification cards and completing the ProCPR, LLC Skill Evaluator application. You can search for a ProCPR skill evaluator at www.blendedcpr.com.

How Can I become a ProCPR Faciliator?

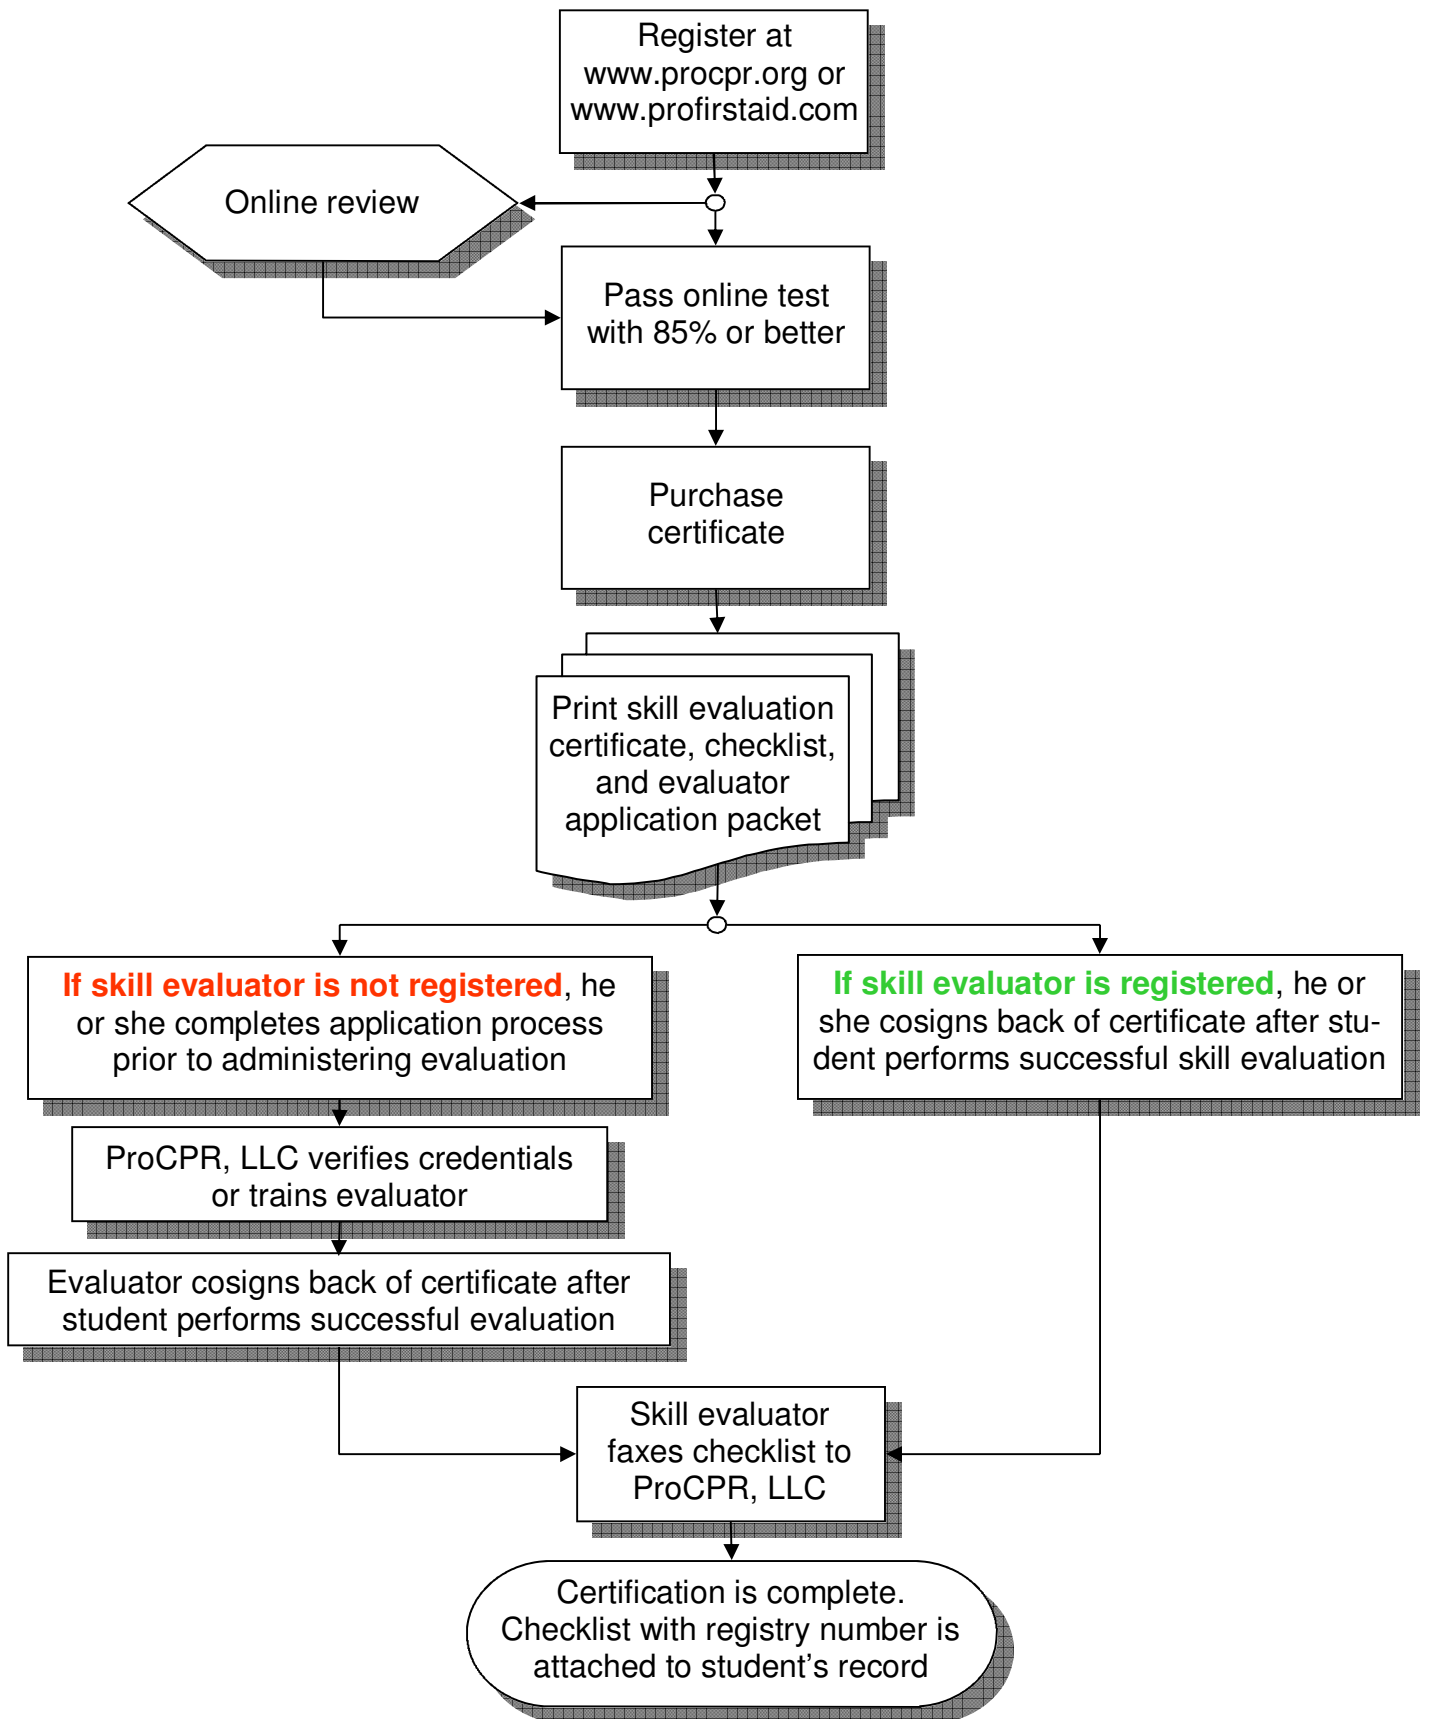

Simply start by signing up at www.blendedcpr.com or complete the enclosed application and fax it back to us. The second step is to be trained or bridged from another program. Facilitator training could be completed in one day. The amount of time is completely dependant upon the participant. ProCPR facilitator training is for people who need to perform skill evaluations for a business, day care, ambulance department, fire hall, hospital, nursing staff, etc. This allows a facility or organization to provide consistent high quality training in-house, saving time and money. This training is NOT for one who desires to be a CPR or First Aid instructor to conduct traditional 4-8 hour classroom instruction.

Prerequisites:

- A current CPR and/or First Aid certification from ProFirstAid, ProCPR, or a recognized organization up to the level he or she will be evaluating.
- A demonstrated need to coordinate training for others.
 - Preferably (not required), a current certified CPR and/or First Aid Instructor with a recognized organization.
 - Preferably (not required), a person with prior medical training who has used CPR and First Aid in real-life situations.
